Falmouth History continued

and businesses but never the community's spirit. No matter what the setback, the city always finds a way to persevere and overcome the problems that are encountered.

Today, Falmouth is still rebuilding from the "Flood of '97." The city is experiencing economical growth with new businesses and a "never say die" attitude. The Pendleton Athletic Park, Renaissance Streetscape Project, Veterans Park, Griffin Center are just a few examples of the newly built attractions in Falmouth. According to the 2005 Census, Falmouth has a popu-

Griffin Center Amphitheatre: A 1,200 seat, state of the art, open-air entertainment complex with a pavilion roof located at the Pendleton County Fairgrounds and Exposition Center. This remarkable facility was donated to the community by Griffin Industries, Inc., in 1993, to commemorate their 50th Anniversary.

Three Rivers District Health Department and the Pendleton County Health Center, located at 329 Highway 330 West in Falmouth and is available to assist residents in various areas of healthcare. They provide Well-Child Check-ups, Nutrition Counseling, Diabetes Education, Monitoring, Family Planning, Cancer Screening, Immunizations, Tuberculosis Screening and Treatment, Prenatal Care, SIDS Counseling, HIV Testing and Counseling, STD Screening, Metabolic Screening, Disaster Preparation, Environmental Services, as well as several others. Open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (Closed 12-1 for lunch)

The Butler Festival takes place each August in the city of Butler. There are always plenty of fun games to play, rides, delicious food and lots of good music.
